Two love birds turn inside out

Two birds dissolve into a moving matrix of globular shapes, shot through with vibrant color, flowing and reacting to the song's rhythms. Bird Matrix exists more in the realm of video art than the pure music video realm, but it also contains the DNA of net art, surrealism and video synthesis. One second it looks like corrupted code, and the next an oil painting, before mutating into something like a chemical reaction.

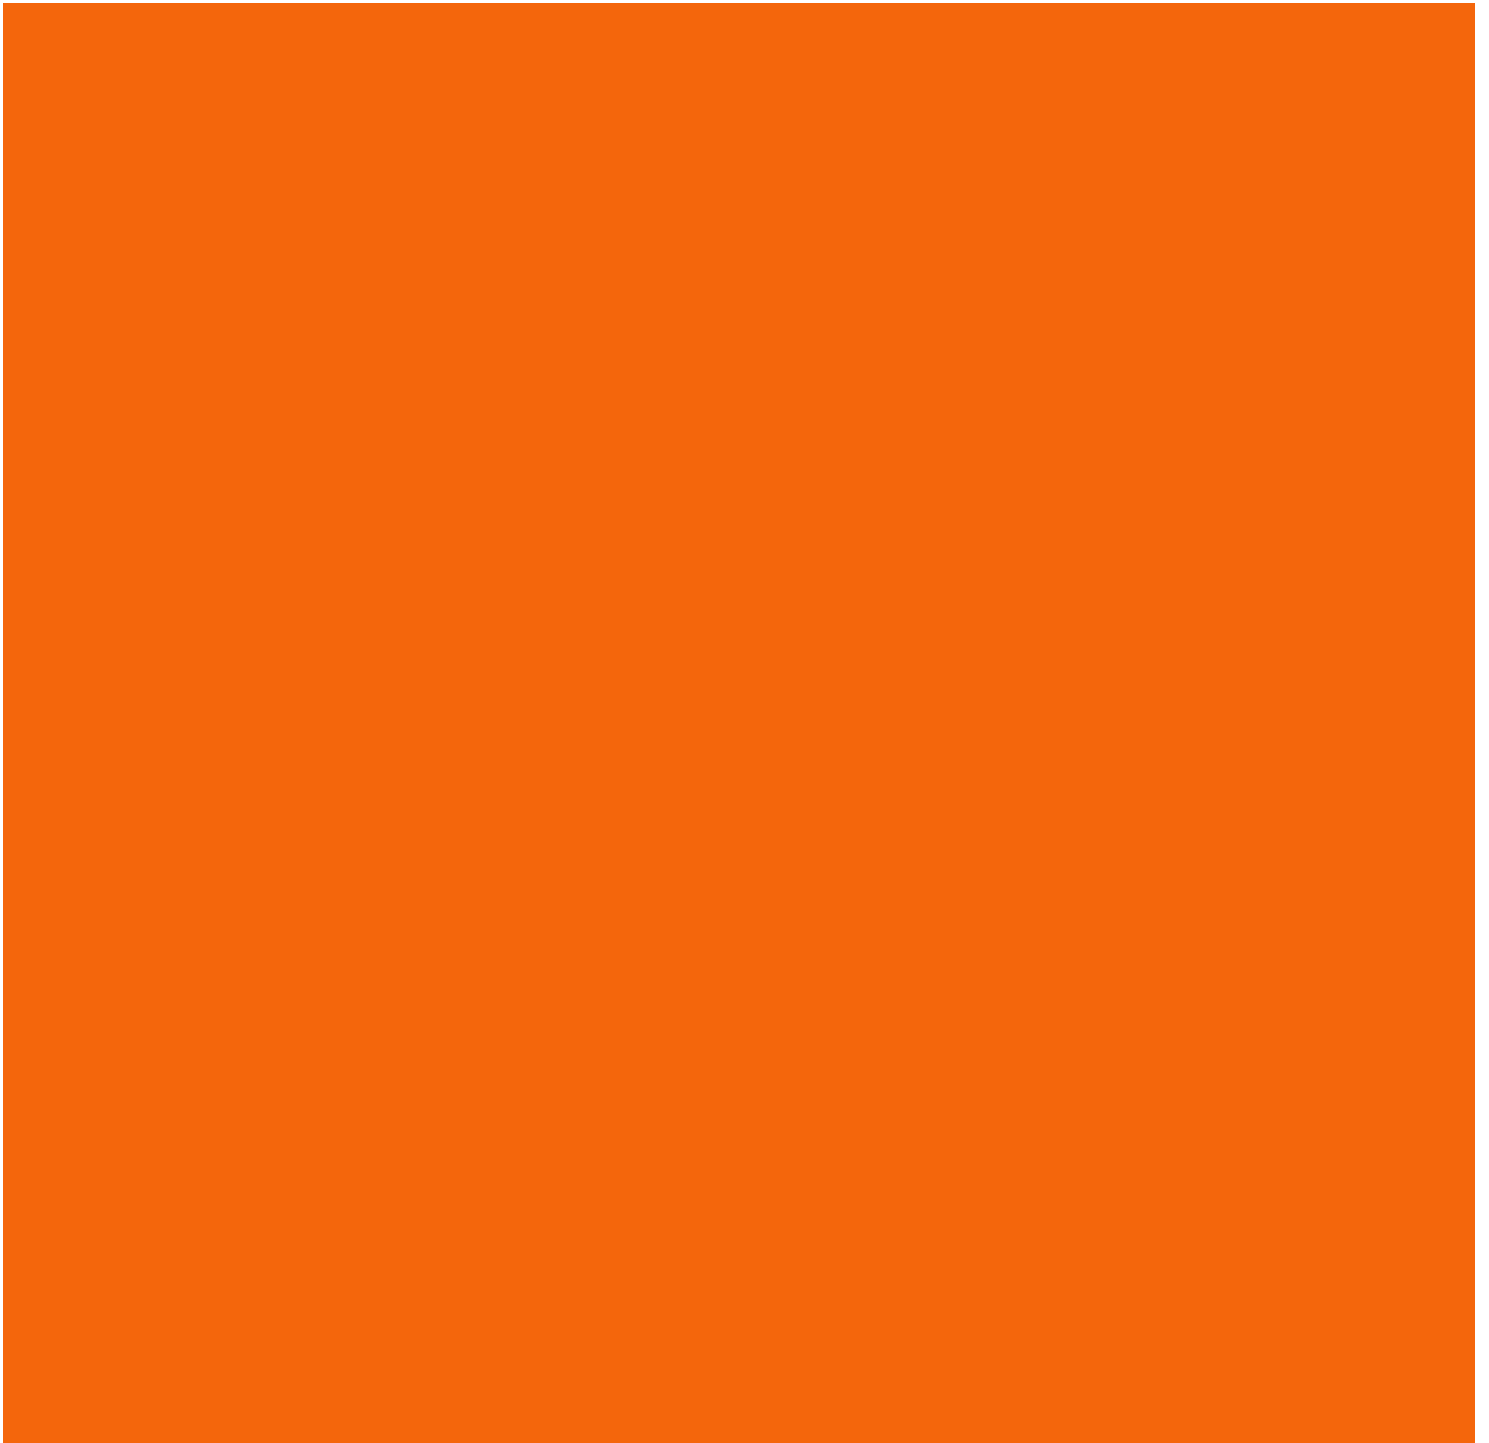

Bird Matrix was show at the Sydney Contemporary Art Fair 2015.
