The Introduction

The experiences one can have with these entities is a complete alteration of reality within the eyes of the adept.. the change that occurs upon initiation of this current is forced, but only because the initiate accepts the breaking through of the internal and external veils of perception... These beings are the personification of the fall of man, which the end result due to the application of this alchemy is to rise as an immortal.

Not just as in an astral manifestation, but immortality its fullness.

The main factor that one should ponder is, are you willing to accept the harsh alchemy that is produced through severe stages of decent?

there is an alchemical change through the litanies that corresponds to the planetary energies. I have found that these beings are not something you want to keep in your temple indefinitely, however a direct evocation of the spirits of this pantheon in conjunction with a proper Initiation is necessary to wield the power of the 24th current as needed.

But as grimoires imply there is danger amongst the path, this is not a gimmick to interest you further.

This is something that you should seriously think about, however all that is need to pathwork the spheres will be made obvious throughout the text. Just know you've been warned and I don't envy you, although I salute you.

As I've said in the beginning welcome to the void...

The Vaults of Zin and Forbidden 13

The Vaults of Zin for most are merely a legend. An obscure labyrinth beneath the Qliphoth which are rarely elaborated upon or even spoken of. Some say they have been, others have never heard of such a thing. A system of tunnels so intricate and complex, you will be lost within the maze without a guiding spirit.

There are specific spheres and pathways that will take you to the Forbidden Tree. You can access it through, Gasheklah, Nehemoth, as well as the Tunnels of Set. Thaumiel is the most logical entrance to the system. Thaumiel, my most recent obsession, I refer to as the god sphere.

The Qliphotic equivalent to the god-head, and through Thaumiel you can experience the Qliphotic Tree from a God's point of view. What if I told you that we have found what no living vessel has been able to even begin to comprehend? The Forbidden Tree lies within the center of the Vaults, closer to the primordial source than anything we know of.

The Forbidden Tree is the roots of the Tree of Death, the coals that keep the fire burning. The diagram below is obviously two dimensional, however we laid it out in such a way for further understanding of what lies beneath. We have mapped it out for you, and soon these vaults will be known to everyone, and accessible to anyone.

The Spheres Of The Forbidden Tree

(The defiler's of god)

The step of releasing yourself from duality, which only exists within the concept of god. At this point you have surpassed separation, only to embrace immortality in it's most pure form. The duality is the main hindrance of mankind, so god must be annihilated to preserve the self in its totality. God is dead, god is void. In this way we can Force unlimited potential, as our will breaches existence.

(The severed ones)

Are the epitome of damnation, in this case this sphere focuses severing your ties with all that is human.

But to become more than human, you must first become less. This is the reverse engineering of the human condition, and the emergence of the new being.

(The harbingers of chaos)

The Alteration of perception, and the clarity of consciousness. This is achieved Through the metamorphosis that consists of catastrophe and rebirth.

(The decayed ones)

The thoughtless predator has been unleashed through the decaying of the soul, and the un-fulfillment of the spirit. This permeates through all, and is fulfilled by none. The insatiable predator awakens.

(The eye of primordial being)

This is the final step in this Fivefold alchemy. This is not the end of your evolution, but it is the completion of the reconfiguration. This is the actualization of the form that required you to be reverseengineered to attain. You devolved so that all limits, and all parts that allowed those limits to exist within you, could be removed. This is the correction of what went wrong in your human evolution. In this state, there is no limit to the heights(or depths) that you can evolve towards. To call this an "end" step is a gross over-simplification, because this is simply the end of the limiting concept of endings. Your Evil Eye is now completely opened, and you will peer into eternity.

Initiation Into The Path

I call to the burning Twin-Throne! I who walk the pathways of separation depart beyond eternal night into the immortal threshold of the forgotten! King BELIAL approach the Mighty Bull! M-O-L-O-CH! (vibrate name 11 times)

I profess to thee horned infernal twin crown of Thaumiel! To cross Beyond the Limitation of duality so that I may walk behind the throne & step through the hidden door to the Tree beyond! Through eradication of the human condition I pass into the Kingdom of Crystalized Fire, into the blackest shadow of Saturn! LEPACA THAUMIEL x11 with the key of Lohaz I open the gate!

Hail Belial, hail Satan, hail Moloch, hail Lohaz, hail Egulcala! LIFTOACH DAWSALAZ x13

I STEP INTO THE KINGDOM OF CRYSTALIZED FIRE! ITAT LOHAZ x24 LOHAZ KITAKAL NAMIFANAK! x5 MIZAEAL

Envision Moloch standing before you at the gate of Thaumiel. Moloch will not let you pass until you give him blood. You give him blood & then you are guided to a temple, where you are then instructed to sit on a throne. Golden serpents then manifest & wrap around you to hold you in place while Moloch has a private conversation face to face with you. Then, the throne rotates 180 degrees, revealing two pathways. The golden serpents unwrap from you & release you from the throne before you proceed to step into the left pathway into the caverns of crystallized fire. The deeper you go into the caverns, the more intensely you feel fire in one nostril, & ice in the other nostril as you breathe. You find an ancient gate in the caverns with the sigil of Lohaz in the center, glowing red & surrounded by strange otherworldly glyphs. Your attention is caught by a keyhole on the gate that is emitting red & blue smoke.

The key of Lohaz then manifests in your hand. You place the key in the hole & turn it.....

Opening The Nexion

The Keeper Of Gates, Egul-Cala.

1. A live raven.
2. A machete to sever the head.
3. A knife suitable to cut out a heart.
4. 5 black candles.
5. A bottle of everclear, to burn the heart.
6. A box of matches.
7. A shovel to dig a hole.
8. A black chalice, for sacrificial blood.

Find a place that most have forgotten, and dig a hole 3 feet deep. Surrounding the hole 5 black candles, in the formation of an inverted pentagram. A candle for each point of the dying star. Now Light the candles, and recite this 3 times.

(‘aseaa ‘iilaa almanzil almuzlim beyda ean aldaw’ alkuni, alzalam kama baladay alsyf masasi aldama’a. ‘iinsaniati tukasiru, wafarisatan taemal fi alkhawf. biaism lwsyfwj, bawwabatan ‘iilaa majal zahl, fath alan)

Now sever the head of the raven, and place it within the hole, drain every last drop of blood into the chalice, and then cut out the heart. Then place the heart, right below the head, and pour the everclear over the heart. strike a match and drop it into the hole, until the heart burns out. Cut the wings, and place them on top of the now scorched heart. Pour the contents of the chalice, over the sacrifice. Now place the remaining pieces of the raven into the hole, and pour some more everclear on top. Light the match and let the remains burn out.

After you have done so place the dirt back over the hole, And perform the litany of Saturn. Come back in 3 weeks time, dig up the grave and breathe in the death essence, and evoke EGULCALA.

Litanies to the Planetary Gates:

We encourage you to follow up each Planetary Gate opening Rite with a Litany corresponding to the Gate. However, just the Litanies themselves are powerful & effective. We encourage this so that you can tear bigger holes through the fabric of the Cosmos.

(Each of these litanies should be done for 13 consecutive days each for the desired alchemical results.)

The Vampire Of Dispersion.

Astral project out of your body, then meditate on dividing into three separate conscious energies.

Then form tendrils from your body extend them towards your target, when your tendrils extend so will your duplicated forms of consciousness. (Project the tendrils into the body of your victim, visualize it!)

With each breath inhale the energy from your target. Through the eyes, nose, tendrils and mouth. (Remember to visualize you and the three forms of consciousness you have projected to drain your victim simultaneously)

Potent and effective points of entry.

1. (Heart chakra)

2. (Third eye)

3. (Root chakra)

4. (Throat chakra)

5. (Solar plexus)

The Eye Of The Void.

The eye of the void is a vampiric method ABUFAYS taught me to feed at an exponential rate, while simultaneously stimulating my psychic senses for a hell of a boost!

step 1.

Envision your third eye caving in and taking it's place, a vortex or a black hole spinning counter clockwise.

Step 2.

Visualise multiple black tendrils shooting out from it, impaling your target deeply.

Step 3.

Now once you have impaled the target and have made an energetic link, dig deeper and root the tendrils. spread them through out the body, Like an infection, or a cancer.

Step 4.

Inhale and flow the energy to you, while absorbing their essence through the tendril connection.

It's a very parasitic method, and most certainly wouldn't be healthy for the host. but it is most beneficial to the vampiric adept

The Evoking Forbidden 13

You will need a staff carved from wood & enchanted with the essence of Egulcala. After carving the staff from wood, enchant it with the essence of Egulcala by smearing your own blood upon it while chanting: "Egulcala Ila Talasra Tanaella Mahitla!" 13 times.

Draw out the one you wish to evoke sigil & have 3 black candles in the formation of an inverted triangle upon your altar. Have a chalice or an obsidion offering bowl and a blade you can draw blood with to shed 13 drops of blood upon the sigil, 13 drops into the chalice (filled with a drink of your choice), & finally 5 drops into the offering bowl. Chant "Amarahumla Ninatla Takat-Sat Timalzum Tarikasla Ani" & visualize a dark energy going into the chalice, causing the drink to glow a fiery crimson red. Now drink from the chalice & declare "I am of True Chaos Spirit!". Now begin the rite of evocation.

For a rite of evocation, recite the litany of the sphere corresponding to the Forbidden One you desire to evoke before calling the name of the deity 13 times, tapping your staff on the ground each time you call the name. Then focus your energy & project it into the sigil, then pull back with your energy as if you are pulling or guiding the Forbidden One towards you while you recite their evocation rite.

Egulcala

He appears as a fit man, with the head of a raven. His black aura spreads as if they are wings. He enhances levels of perception and can consume and harbor curses, that have been sent for later use. He dwells in abandoned lands of the forgotten and is known for enchanting magickal tools and fetishes.

Evocation Of Egulcala

Egulcala I call you from forgotten lands, cloak me from thine enemies with your blackened wings, and allow me to be forged from ash so I may rise as the true warrior of chaos! The ravens fall from the crimson sky, as the the blood drips from my finger tips. I open the gate to the defilers of god, tear me from all that is mundane, and the comforts of the illusion I call home! Manifest before me, and bless me with your infernal presence! Tear the veil with your might, as Saturn burns through you!!

I open the nexion, come Egulcala! X13

Lohaz

He sits on a throne of crystallized fire, he does not forgive, nor does he forget. He is of royal stature and dwells within the hollows of man. He comes to reap the souls of his enemies, know that yours are his as well. He teaches lessons of ego, and distortion of self.

Evocation Of Lohaz

Lohaz, lord of the Kingdom of crystalized fire! Throw me into the fire so I may wake from my dormant state of limitation! And cast me into the ice of solidity so immortality and the blessing of undeath you've awakened me to can forever be preserved! Slaughter me! Cut me loose so I may transcend the flesh! I open the gate to the defilers of god!

I open the nexion, come Lohaz! X13

Namirha

Namirha is one of the severed ones. One of the three wives of Siblii, and also quite possibly his most terrifying bride. She comes as a storm of shadows and fear, and will bring your own fears out from your subconscious to face then. She can also bestow this fear upon an enemy. With her comes legions of many, and this is not to be taken lightly. She holds knowledge of past lives and bloodlines, and can sever your ties to them.

Namirha

i, the severed Ghoulish King. He has three wives: Namirha, Naraguhs and Abufays. He appears as half-man and half-ghoul. Atop his head he wears a golden crown bound with human bones and the feet of dead crows. He bears truth of illusions and time, and can sever your bindings to linear spacetime. He is said to be unstoppable, and commands legions of dead warriors. The power the magician weilds with this is devastating Naraguhs is one of the severed ones and ones of the wives of Siblii. She comes riding a pale horse; in one hand she holds a heart, symbolizing humanity being ripped from the magician. # The Necromantic Initiation Of Arh-Tyn.

(The rite of chosen death)

This rite will take place at dusk, it is a time of conflict. It is the time where light wages war with the devouring forces of darkness.

you could say this is vampiric in nature, a rite of deification that is influenced by a powerful act of necromancy.

Becoming the devourer, initiating into the necromantic path, and an attunement to the whispering vibrations of death.

Walk to your local cemetery bring with you a blade, 8 black candles, a shovel, and a compass.

Take your compass and your blade, find a grave in the north, the west, the east, and the south.

Cut yourself and mark each of the four graves with your blood over the name of the chosen dead, and leave one black candle lit over the top of every grave bed. This is to create an energetic link between you and the chosen four deceased. The black candles on each grave bed represent the black flame, the spirits you call may be resurrected through the black flame and their former consciousness transmuted through your current intentions as each candle is placed.

Now take the shovel and dig four small holes in the shape of a cross representing the four corners of the crossroads, and center the ritual space as accurately as possible within the chosen grave sites. once you have dug the four holes, place four strands of your hair as well as four drops of blood in each hole. now take the shovel and cover the holes with graveyard dirt from the chosen four graves.

On top of every covered hole a candle is placed, then the alchemical process can begin.

Now you can begin the calling.

I call to (name of the deceased) awake and be reborn through the black flame ive bestowed upon you! Come forth and manifest before me. Spirit of the north stand before me and manifest!

I call to (name of the deceased) awake and be reborn through the black flame ive bestowed upon you! Come forth and manifest beside me. Spirit of the west stand beside me and manifest!

I call to (name of the deceased) awake and be reborn through the black flame ive bestowed upon you! Come forth and manifest behind me. Spirit of the south stand behind me and manifest!

I call to (name of the deceased) awake and be reborn through the black flame ive bestowed upon you! Come forth and manifest beside me. Spirit of the east stand beside me and manifest!

As the spirits gather around you and begin to present themselves, begin a trance state through thoughtless meditation. once you feel you have lost track of time and have completely faded into the abyss of self. Then exhale and Push out every last bit of energy you have, while visualizing the projection as a black plague enveloping and consuming the 4 spirits surrounding you. Then with one last deep breathe, inhale the vile cloud of energy you projected containing the souls of the four chosen and devour the essence. You will become attuned to death, through becoming death.

Alinging your vibrations, or in a sense merging your vibrations with the void within and without. the adept can only achieve this through self sacrifice, and accepting the foul wings of death as your own.

Initiation into Forbidden Necromantic Mysteries

This is a rite meant to attune you to Death energy & bring necromantic gnosis. You will be in the presence of Lohaz & Ahrtyn, offering them decay & pain to ignite an alchemical change towards a state of undeath. Know that the changes from the rite described below are irreversible & that this rite should not be performed if you are not ready to thrive off of Death Energy; these energies can cause physical harm to your body if you bring them into yourself ill-prepared.

(Some materials that will be needed include):

- Tobacco, Wormwood & Alcohol offerings
- A flogger
- A knife sharp enough to draw blood
- Flour
- Ashes
- Grave soil
- Decayed carcass(es)
- A shovel

Find a secure area outdoors, preferably a graveyard or a secure spot in a forest, & dig a hole at least large enough for the rotted carcass(es). Draw blood with your knife, & then put blood on your brow & on the three candles. Place one candle next to the hole you have dug, & then the other two candles on opposite sides of the hole. Now, mix the ash with the grave soil & cover your body with it before drawing out the sigils of Lohaz & Ahrtyn in flour on the opposite sides of the hole. While drawing the sigils, vibrate "Lohaz Asta-Yatla Tafiremla Baa!" for the sigil of Lohaz, & "Ahrtyn Ilunatla" for the sigil of Ahrtyn. After you have drawn each sigil, proceed to burn tobacco & wormwood offerings next to the sigils, while also smoking tobacco & wormwood yourself, & then throw the carcasses into the hole. Pour an alcoholic drink into the hole after first taking a drink yourself.

Now meditate on the stench & presence of Death. Take deep breaths & imagine your mortal limitations decaying & falling off of you, while the essence of Undeath begins to fill you.

Take your flogger & whip yourself to your threshold while repeating "Lohaz Ahrtyn Ilunatla!", envision your mortality being murdered & your human weaknesses rotting away.

When you have reached your threshold of the amount of pain you can offer, silently bury the carcasses. Then, go to the sigils you drew in flour, & smear the flour all over you. When you leave the ritual site, do not look back. Find the nearest lake, pond, spring or ocean, remove any clothing & jump into the water. Envision the water as thick & black churning chaos water & eager to engulf you. But it is not engulfing you in the manner of causing Death but rather inducing Undeath. It is drowning your mortality in a Baptism of Undeath.

You emerge from the water changed irreversibly into an Undead vessel for Necromantic Gnosis.

Conclusion Austin

I will be straight-forward and blunt in saying this: being one of the vessels to unleash these Trans-Qliphotic nightmares into this plane traumatized me greatly. This is not something we sought out, this is something that chose to tap into us on it's own accord for whatever reason. Unleashing these names, channeling these sigils, acquiring this gnosis, and putting these rites together opened a Pandora's Box that put us into a living Hell. Speaking for myself, I found myself making decisions I normally would never have made. I found myself thrown into absolute insanity in ways that I had not been in my past black magickal experiences had not, and experienced extreme paranoia as well as physical suffering. I am admittedly in my natural state off less sound mind than my co-author and magickal brother, so the psychological Hell of this was certainly the greatest struggle for me.

Also, to be brutally honest, these forces terrified me, and to an extent, they still do. A few times I even found myself wondering how and why I had damned myself with a Hell beyond Hell itself. I found myself questioning if this could even be trusted at all, and wondering if I, for lack of a better way of putting it, would be completely screwed in the end no matter how far I ascended. But ultimately, I was born damned. It was, for whatever reason, my destiny to play a role in this coming day of wrath. I realize now, more than ever, that there is a cycle of apocalyptic events, and if these Pre-Atlantian forces tap into someone completely on their own accord, that means something is about to happen that NEEDS to happen. These 13 Forbidden ones couldn't have, and most certainly did not, destroy Atlantis for no reason. This current is a weapon that MUST be unleashed, and I welcome, and fully embrace my damnation. My damnation is my birthright.

"Before the dawn, before the fall...
the forces which the Old Tribe called.
The primal limitlessness before the All.
Road so long overgrown,
till a sword sliced the brush and the path was shown.
To fragments shattered, to fragments scattered,
for aeons dancing through bloodied trails,
frenzied slicing at the veil.
Impossible, till it broke the limit,
possible, because they Will it.
Shards assemble, the cosmos trembles,
13 floodgates, 13 bloodgates,
their arrival brings astral earthquakes.
13 heads, their wings now spread.
Now we call.
Order will fall.
Infinite No-Thing, consume the All!"

-Austin Blackstone

Conclusion Chris

One thing that I need to emphasize on is the fact that these spirits tapped into us, not the other way around. What have my experiences been you may ask? Well it all started when I got a vision of a tree, and of some entities whose energies resonated with me deeply. They resonated with me because of their vampiric nature, and vampirism is one of the main things I had in mind to immerse myself into the occult in the first place. Their manifestations were alien to me, and at first their presence otherworldly and chaotic. My interest started to grow, as I noticed them showing themselves more and more within the confines of my temple, other sorcerers I know started to notice them too throughout conversations we've had over video chat. Overtime I would consciously forget they were there even though their presence was intimidating, I guess because of normalcy, and subconsciously telling myself they're not real. Every time I came to the realization that they were still surrounding me, and became consciously aware, it seemed as if they were downloading entire hard drive worth of information into my subconscious, only to raise into the conscious mind to destroy my entire perception of reality once more. I had no idea what I was getting myself into, but I was about to find out.

My entire life was destroyed, and a sign I have become familiar with to know when it's about to get worse, is seeing the numbers 13 and 24 throughout my day. They removed me from all the comforts, that most of the occult would perceive as comforts of a mundane nature. I lost my home, most of my family, and "real" friends I have known for years. It came to the point where suicide was on my mind, not because of depression, but due to the brutal awakening that was so intensely forced upon me, became all most too hard to process. This tore me internally, and effectively hit every aspect surrounding my entire life. I wanted to check myself into a mental institution, and I kept coming to a point where insanity was about to settle in. I had lost everything, only to realize I already had everything. It made me become comfortable with myself, and able to survive a harsh reality.

Throughout this path my consciousness has expanded exponentially, but not without severe physical, and mental trauma. These spirits predate qliphoth, but are not sovereign from it by far. These beings are the pre-atlantian equivalent to the qliphothic rulers.

We have come to the conclusion that these beings were the main cause of the fall of man (Atlantis), and it is not of coincidence that they have come back to find vessels for their forbidden current. We are in what is known as the kali yuga, which is a precursor to the inevitable apocalypse. The time has come for one cycle of being to end, so a new state of being can make over. We are coming upon a mass awakening because we are forced to, but only because we chose to open the door, even if it was merely one of the subconscious. As I said in the beginning, welcome to the void.
