

Sexual Harassment

October

Friday 2

- At approximately 9:20 am, immediately upon entering the female shared bathroom facilities without my phone with me, I observed the elderly handyman already standing in the female shared bathroom facilities, pretending to wash his hands or doing something by the sink. The very moment I turned around and walked back to my room, because I knew right away it's sexual harassment, he immediately walked out of the female shared bathroom facilities and looked at my butt before walking away. The retaliation and sexual harassment happened immediately after I talked about the Tamilsagen and how it was exposed through intensive investigative journalism. This further proves that there are hidden cameras in my room to observe all my movements, when they are able to plan the sexual harassment in advance before I even step out of my room.
- At approximately 9:30 am, immediately after I wiped myself after using the bathroom, I heard the tall cleaning lady cough outside the bathroom. She also wore a wireless earbud on one side of her ears. Maybe that's why they sent her into the bathroom pretending to Hoover the floor at the exact moment I went into the bathroom, so that they could instruct her via the wireless earbud to cough at the precise moment I wiped myself, to sexually harass and humiliate me.
- At approximately 9:40 am or something, immediately upon stepping out of my room to go to the canteen downstairs, I observed Dea, Ayfer and Laura standing at the end of the hallway by the window. Both Ayfer and Laura wore black outfits. They all formed a number 3 again. While walking along the corridor, the elderly handyman then suddenly also walked along the corridor to walk past me in a narrow hallway to make me feel uncomfortable, replicating the exact same sexual harassment technique often used in the UK. Laura then said "hi, Buppha" to me while I was walking past them. Dea also immediately said the same to me while walking right behind my back pretending to head downstairs as well. I could see knowing smiles in their faces, as if to signal something.
- At approximately 9:50 am, after I had finished taking some food, Laura suddenly approached me and said she needed to have a word with me in her office for just a few minutes. It turned out that she said the tall cleaning lady had reported to her that I had interfered with her work this morning by telling her what to do. This looked therefore like a fake accusation to intimidate me, to put me on my nerves and to retaliate, after I had just written about the tall cleaning lady and how she supposedly received instructions via her wireless earbud to convey voyeurism, as I said earlier.
