You can now use a single sign-on for all your accounts, view the status of all your manuscript submissions and reviews, access usage statistics for your published articles and download a record of your refereeing activity for the Nature journals. Please check your account regularly and ensure that we have your current contact information.

To increase transparency in the peer review process, Springer Nature has partnered with Research Square to provide you with a private author dashboard where you can access more detailed information on the status of your manuscript throughout peer review via a peer review timeline. Research Square will be in touch separately with more details on this service.

In addition, Springer Nature encourages all authors and reviewers to associate an Open Researcher and Contributor Identifier (ORCID) to their account. ORCID is a community-based initiative that provides an open, non-proprietary and transparent registry of unique identifiers to help disambiguate research contributions.

Please note that Nature Machine Intelligence implements transparent peer review of original research manuscripts, in which we publish the reviewer comments to the authors, author rebuttal letters and editorial decision letters as a supplementary peer review file, if the author agrees at the point of acceptance. This will apply to new manuscripts submitted on or after 6th May 2025. Upon author request, confidential information and data can be removed from the reviewer reports and rebuttal letters prior to publication. For more information, please refer to our FAQ page.

Thank you for choosing to submit your manuscript to Nature Machine Intelligence.

Best regards,

Editorial Assistant
